KABO HIGH BUST CORSET!

THE MOST PERFECT

Dress Form Corset

Ever Produced.

LADIES' slender figure will find in this corset something they have long desired. It makes a perfect form, and meets the approval of dressmakers, in that it facilitates the fitting of dresses, doing away as it does with all bosom padding. It lengthens the waist. It has cord loops in place of brass eyelits to lace, thus obviating all danger of the corset laces showing through the dress and making it impossible to soil the underclothing from corrosion of the eyelits.

SAVANNAH SWEPT!

By a West India Hurricane and Many People Killed.

Rages for Eight Hours, Reaching Its Climax at Midnight.

Ruin and Wreck Left in Its Pathway—Destruction of the Wind Along the Atlantic Coast.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 29.—Yesterday, on the anniversary of the great storm of 1881, Savannah was swept by a hurricane, equalled only by its great predecessor. For eight hours the winds swept the city in gradually increasing volume, reaching its climax at midnight.

Tybee, the port of Savannah, is a memory. Fourteen lives are known to have been lost there, and none dares foretell the results of the wreck which will be made among the ruins today. The property damage is placed at no less than $1,000,000

The storm, which had been predicted by the weather bureau for several days, began early in the afternoon and increased from then until it reached the climax between 11 and 12 o'clock last night, having blown for eight hours in a terrific hurricane.

It began raining early in the morning, but only in spots. After the first fall it ceased entirely for several hours and did not begin until afternoon. Then the work of destruction began and lasted until the storm had spent its fury at midnight

All the shavers along the river front and the warehouses of the Ocean Steamship company and Savannah, Florida and Western railway are under water, and the tide is still rising rapidly.

A view of the city this morning revealed a scene of ruin and wreck surpassing that after the great hurricane of 1881. The streets are impassable from the fallen trees, twisted roofs, masses of bricks, fences, broken timbers and branches of trees lying across them. Trees are piled across the sidewalks and in the square and broken limbs are swinging in every direction.

Nearly every one, if not quite all, of the property owners in the city have been damaged to some extent and some to the amount of thousands.

The list of fatalities is gradually growing, and it is impossible to tell to what extent it will go. Several bodies of drowned persons were picked up last night and search is now being made for others which are missing. Every hour seems to bring some new story of a death as a result of the storm.

The drowning of a A. C. Ulmer, assistant cashier of the Central Railroad bank on Hutchinsons Island, was one of the unfortunate fatalities of the storm. Mr. Ulmer owns a farm on the island and had gone over to pay off his hands and attend to other duties There were bruises on Mr. Ulmer's face and it is supposed that he struck against an anthonos when he jumped from his barn when it was about to be blown down. Miller, his dairyman, has not been found, and it is presumed that he has been drowned also.

The other fatalities so far reported are as follows: Tony Holmes, colored, crushed in a house on Hutchinsons Island. Four unknown negroes, drowned on the Brampton plantation, four miles from the city. Louis Gognett, colored, ran into a live trolley wire and was killed. Tattle Squire, a six-year old colored boy drowned on Hutchinson island. John Williams, Mary Butler and Sarah Green, drowned on a rice plantation south of the city. Two funkuown sailors, drowned at Tybee island. There are forty to fifty other persons who are reported missing, and it is supposed, as nothing has been heard from them, that their bodies will be found later.

Twelve barks and barkentines, which were anchored at the quarantine station, were blown high and dry upon the marsh, and some of them were carried by the storm across the marshes on to an island two miles distant from the station. One of the vessels at Tybee was completely capsized. The ruin at quarantine is complete. Nothing is standing where one of the finest stations of the South Atlantic was twenty-four hours ago except the doctor's house, and how this weathered the fearful gale today is miraculous.

The wharves are gone, the new fumigating plant, which has cost the city so much money, is at the bottom of the sea, and nine vessels, which were waiting there for release to come to the city, are high and dry in the marsh, and no doubt will be total wrecks. The Gonine was the only vessel which managed to keep afloat.

The tug Pauline arrived in the city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon She brought up about sixty passengers from Tybee. Mr. Rivers, one of those on board, says that four negroes engaged in clearing the railroad tracks, were drowned, and a sailor and the cabin boy on the schooner Harold, which is on her side on the beach, are drowned. It is reported that eight of the crew on a tempino sloop which went ashore on the south end were drowned. The hotel Tybee is considerably damaged in front and the verandas are gone. All the bath houses are gone. The Knights of Pythias club house is washed away and two of the cottages of the Creating club are gone. The Butler house is gone. Mr. Stark's house was washed away into the marsh. The Atlantic club house is all right. The Bonclie and rambler club houses were wrecked. The railroad track is cleared out. Henry Greenie's house was burned. George Beasley's cottage was swept out to sea. The north end is practically cleaned out. The water swept with tremendous force over this part of the island, railroad tracks being carried from out to sea feet. The Chatham club house is badly damaged. The pavilions on the beach are gone. So is the switch back. An empty train stands in the woods. Trains on all roads are coming in irregularly, and some of them have entirely stopped to repair washouts. The church steeples are demolished, and at least 500 large trees are blown down all over the city. The Tybee road is under water for the entire distance, and in many places is entirely washed away. There is no communication whatever with Tybee except by boat. The storm was worst on Tybee Island, an hour and a half by boat from the city proper. Tybee is at the mouth of the Savannah river, and is the port of the city

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 29.—All the South Atlantic coast, as far as can be ascertained from this wrecked point, with much of the interior, was swept away during the early hours of Sunday morning by the West India hurricane which has been playing such havoc for several days. The wires are down everywhere, and buried beneath ruins, and information is meager. The fury of the hurricane is unexampled in interior Carolina. For eight or ten hours the hurricane held this country relentlessly in its clutches, and men and beast alike were powerless to contend against the surging war of the elements. Hundreds of lofty trees were ruthlessly torn from their roots. But not only were trees the sufferers from this fearful storm. Houses and other property were the same way, though it was a peculiar feature of the havoc that the damage to this class of property was not so serious as to other classes. The electric railway, the railroads, the telephone and telegraphic companies were the greatest sufferers. All these institutions were so completely stopped as if they had suffered a paralytic stroke. Columbia has been for almost the whole day cut off completely from the outside world The wind blew at the rate of forty-two miles an hour here, sixty miles an hour on the sea coast, and perhaps 100 an hour at sea. The rainfall here during the storm for twelve hours was 4.30 inches.

ROCKING, N. C., Aug. 29.—Kernsville, N. C., was struck by the cyclone. Four people were killed and 100 houses blown down. There was frightful destruction and loss of life south of here.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 29. The heaviest rain storm, accompanied by a high wind, known here since 1871, occurred last night. Considerable damage was done to trees, awnings and everything the wind could play havoc with. The storm was general all through New York state and like damage is reported from Rochester and other places east, which can be reached. The telegraph wires suffered greatly and communication east of Rochester is cut off. Erie, Pa., reports a heavy storm there, with great loss to fruit crops

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—New York caught the edge of last night's storm. Comparatively little damage was done in the immediate vicinity. The damage to shipping cannot be ascertained until telegraphic communication has been restored. Both telegraph companies are badly crippled, the high wind tearing down wires in all directions.

The storm cut off all railroad communication between Long Branch and other resorts along the Jersey coast. The tracks are under four feet of water. A high wind prevails today, and a heavy sea is running in New York bay. The waves dash over the battery wall, throwing spray twenty feet in the air.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—A very severe wind storm passed over this section of the country last night. From four teen miles an hour at noon the wind increased in velocity until it had reached forty-eight miles during the night. Vesselmen say that the gale was the heaviest experienced this season. But three boats left port during the night.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Aug. 29.—A special from Sevierville, twenty-seven miles up the Pigeon river, says a cloudburst in the Cove above that place yesterday afternoon, caused terrible destruction to property and crops. The river at Sevierville rose five feet in a few minutes No lives are reported lost.

WILL FIGHT HERE.

Sally Smith Will Have a Mill in Fort Wayne Tomorrow.

In last evening's Indianapolis Sun appeared the following.

"Sally Smith, the famous lightweight, was in the city a few hours Saturday, en route to Asbury park, New York city, where he will at once begin a rigid course of training preparatory to his encounter with the champion, Dixon, at Roby, September 11. The pugilist has arranged for an unofficial mill at Fort Wayne next Wednesday, and his visit here was for the purpose of consulting with Attorney Otto Gresham with regard to the extent of the criminality which would be incurred by himself in the latter battle

R. L. Ronyon and wife have returned from French Lick Springs. Mr. Ronyon is much improved in health, but is still suffering from a bad cold. He says there were 114 people at the springs when he left.

GROWING BRIGHTER

Are the Financial Skies—Several Banks Reopen

And Resume Business—Sioux City Coming Out of Its Recent Financial Troubles.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 29.—The German National bank, of this city, and the First National bank, of Canon City, which closed during the recent panic, will resume business today.

WICHITA, Wis., Aug. 29.—The County National bank, of this city, reopened its doors for business yesterday, after a suspension of less than a month.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 29.—The bank of New England, which suspended about a month ago, will resume business next Saturday. President A. J. Blethen says the bank has better backing than ever

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 29.—Indications now are that Sioux City will come out of its recent financial troubles in a few days with practically all the institutions involved in the failure on a sound basis. The failure resulted from the assignment of the Union Loan and Trust company, which had been used as a clearing house for other institutions, and the real damage was to those institutions, which were carried down. John C. Coombs, of Boston, attorney for a committee of creditors, appeared to develop means of settlement, has outlined a plan that will be submitted at a meeting of the committee in Chicago Wednesday, which will be accepted by the creditors, and is very favorably considered here.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—T. P. Haughey and his sons, Selmyr and Francis A., and Percival Collin and Albert S. Heed, under arrest for wrecking the Indianapolis National bank, appeared before Commissioner Vanlanen yesterday afternoon and through their attorneys waived preliminary examination. They were bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 29.—United States Bank Examiner John B. Gannon has authorized the First National bank, at Lockhart, and the First National bank at San Marcos, to resume, and both are again opened

SHOT BY A HIGHWAYMAN.

Such Was the Fate of Homer Darling Found Dead at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Discoveries made yesterday by the Armory police go to prove that Homer C. Darling, who was found dying under the Twelfth street viaduct early Sunday morning, was shot by a highwayman. He died an hour after being carried into the hospital. A bullet had drilled a big hole in his left groin and death had resulted from loss of blood At first the police were of the opinion that Darling had attempted to rob some one and had been shot. This theory was strengthened by the man's persistent refusal to tell the officers how he came to be wounded. The facts that came to light yesterday, however, prove that he was a peaceable, quiet man, and that instead of being a footpad, as was first supposed, he was the victim of a thief who tried to rob him. Darling was about thirty-five years of age. He came to Chicago last January from Rochester, N. Y. His widow and two children live there.

PRISONER SUICIDES.

James Daily Kills Himself in Jail at Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 29.—James Daily committed suicide in the county jail yesterday morning. He had been arrested one hour before. The officers failed to find a razor concealed in his clothing and he used it in cutting his throat. The gash was a terrible one, extending completely around the neck and severing the windpipe. Daily was addicted to the use of morphine It is thought that his home was at Indianapolis, but there was nothing in his possession indicating as much.

CONVICTS ESCAPE

From the Prison Guards at Bismarck, Dak.—Six Recaptured.

BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 29.—Twelve of the twenty two convicts engaged in the brick yard adjoining the town and about two miles from the penitentiary, while being conveyed to the prison from work at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon broke away from the guards and ran in different directions. Most of them ran to the timber and thick underbrush south of the city. Only six have been recaptured. Hundreds of armed men have surrounded the timber and it is believed the others will be captured.

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

The Queen of Comic Opera is to be Married Again.

CHICAGO Aug 29.—Lillian Russell is to be married again very soon, if the rumors now current in theatrical circles are true. The man she is to wed the queen of comic opera in America is Eugene Sandow, the strongest man in the world The story of their meeting is one tinged with a little stage romance, and it would appear that in other instances it was a case of love at first sight Both Miss Russell and Sandow were married not long ago and neither is fond of talking about it.

ONLY SIXTEEN DO NOT HOLD OUT

Other Students of the Indiana Normal Refuse to Ask for Certificates.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 29.—Secretary Hoyt, of the board of trustees of the state Normal school, says sixteen of the sixty-nine graduates of June have received their certificates Twenty signed one of the two statements submitted to the class that either they had taken no part in the demonstration against the school at the moment of their last regretted hasty departure or that they regretted having done so. Of these four were not here to take part. It had been the expectation that nearly all the members of the class would have applied for certificates by this time.

GOTLING'S GRIT.

White Caps Stalke a Raid on His House.

He Meets Them With His Gun and Puts Them to Flight, With One of the Gang Wounded.

NOBLESVILLE, Mind., Aug. 29.—Sunday night, between 10 and 11 o'clock four masked men, dressed in rough farmer woolen clothes, with long white caps drawn over their faces, carrying fifty feet of rope, four bundles of hickory switches, four feet long, armed with guns, called at the premises of Elias Gotling, five miles southwest of the city. He is a bachelor, fifty years old, living on the edge of the big timber. A raid was made on the house which he was supposed to be sleeping, but he had moved into his granary. Arriving there they smashed in the door. Gotling heard them when they came to the house, and was prepared. Jumping through a back window with a pistol and a sawed-off shotgun, he attacked the gang, and a battle took place, four shots being fired The night was dark. An attempt was made to place a rope around Gotling's neck when a shot from his gun took effect in the legs of one of the white caps, the gang fleeing, carrying the wounded man with them, scattering blood as they went. The affair is the outcome of a school district feud of two years standing Some of the parties are known and will be arrested

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug 29.—Sunday night Masculonio Aziis went to the house of a Mexican woman with whom he was intimate, and finding Antonio Monterez in the room with her, he fired three bullets into Monterez, killing him almost instantly. Resting the pistol on his ear, Azis fired a bullet into his own brain, causing instant death.

VICTIM OF A BOLD ADVENTURESS.

Wealthy Ohio Farmer Gives Her Money and Then Takes His Life.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 29. On Saturday Benjamin Leighey, a wealthy farmer living near Sunbury, Delaware county, was found dead in his yard. It now develops that he was the victim of an adventuress. A year ago he met a woman known as Sarah McGrath. Being a widower he paid her some attentions, which she encouraged, but said she had a husband in another state from whom she was entitled by law to a divorce, but had no money to prosecute the case. He advanced her a great deal of money for this and other purposes, and they were to be married this week. At the last moment she discovered him and he took the matter so much to heart that he committed suicide by morphine. At the inquest she gave in this city Mr. McGrath is not known

SATOLLI WILL PONTIFICATE

At Dubuque, Iowa, When Archbishop Hennessy is Installed.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Aug. 29.—Monsignor Satolli will pontificate September 11, when Cardinal Gibbons will invest Archbishop-elect Hennessy. Archbishop Corrigan will celebrate pontifical vespers. Archbishops Feehan, Ryan, Williams, Elder, Ireland, Riordan, Katzer, Kain and Chappelle, fifteen suffragan bishops, and 300 priests of metropolitan area have also accepted invitations.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

County Clerk Sonderman this morning issued the following marriage licenses:

Sylvester Lech and Anthoinette McGingan.

Edward L. Rhodes and Johanna C. Pape.

John Bellamy and Margaret Bellamy.

James Moses and Rosa Pavey.

WANTS A DIVORCE

Hon W. H. Colerick, as attorney for the plaintiff, has begun an action in the circuit court asking that his client Mary E. Huber, may be divorced from her husband, George Huber, alleging adultery on the part of the defendant. She makes the Fort Sylvania company a party to the suit, as they have wages due him which she desires to make subject to the alimony which she asks.

MARRIED THIS EVENING

This morning, at his office, Justice Harry France united in marriage John Bellamy and Margaret Bellamy. He married the same parties six years ago. After living together for a while they found they could not agree and were divorced in the courts recently they met, compromised their difference, fell in love again and a re-marriage was the result Both of the parties live in this city

Justice France also married another couple this morning—Henry Hendelfelder and Ella Jones, both of this city.

SUED THE CITY.

M. V. B. Spencer, as attorney for August Plumer, has brought suit in the circuit court against the city of Fort Wayne for $100 damages. He alleges that his horse was injured and made lame by the defective street, which tore off the animal's hoof.

AFTER THE ARTISTS

At 11 o'clock last night Constables Wise and Shelley and Officers Paul and Tremont and a deputy constable, William Cook, a bartender, who had offered his services to assist in raiding houses of ill fame, called at the Arlington hotel and placed everybody in the house under arrest on a charge of frequenting a place of ill repute and took them before Justice France. The parties arrested were Michael S. Wiedell and wife, Mary Jones, Jennie Thompson and Emma Moore, the latter being a girl of but fifteen years who was employed at the Arlington as dishwasher. All of them, with the exception of Jennie Thompson, were residents at the hotel Miss Thompson was a guest. The defendants secured James M Robinson as their attorney and at 12 o'clock he made his appearance, having been sorted out of bed to defend the prisoners He found out that they had been arrested without a warrant and told all of them to leave the room, but Deputy Prosecutor Ryan interfered and told the constables to guard the door and prevent them from going. This the officers did and the prisoners were released The deputy prosecutor made a motion for a continuance until this afternoon, which Mr. Robinson resisted The matter said the case would be continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock and he would hold each prisoner under $500 bond Mr. Robinson then made a motion for a change of venue, but the square refused to grant it Mrs Wiedell's bond was not in court, nevertheless a warrant was made out for her Mr. Wiedell signed the bond for all the prisoners and they were released at 1:15 this morning

HYPNOTIZED BY PENNINGTON.

Inventor of the Gas Bell Railroad Scheme, Charged With Sorcery.

NORTH VERNON, Ind., Aug. 29.—Mordecai Pennell has returned from Chicago whither he went with a couple of pounds of his wonderful compound. He declared the alleged Chicago gas bell railroad scheme to be a fraud. He says he was hypnotized by Professor Pennington, of Chicago, who, he says, is a sorcerer. The professor, he says, hypnotized him in the middle of a crowded street in Chicago and made him do all sorts of things

How our Congressmen Voted.

Indiana congressmen voted as follows on the Bland substitute for free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1. For the substitute, Messrs. Brentz, Brookshire, Cum, Holman and Taylor, against the substitute, Messrs. Brown, Bynum, Cooper, Hammond, Johnson, Martin, McNagny and Waugh.

On the final roll call to repeal the silver purchase clause of the sherman act the Indiana delegation voted solidly for the Wilson bill and unconditional repeal. On the minor the delegation divided.

Subsidy of Employes.

The temperance reformer, Francis Murphy, is of the opinion that drunkenness is decreasing in spite of statistics to the contrary. His experiences show him that the demands of business more and more require sobriety in men, and employers are insisting upon strict temperance in their employes. So the drinkers man is finding it more difficult to obtain employment and is led to reform. Stronger then all the moral arguments is the appeal of personal interest and it may be that the most effective temperance reform is to come through the necessities of business. If this is the case, the drinking question will yet be settled in a rational and altogether satisfactory way.

The Wilson Bill.

The following is the synopsis of the Wilson repeal bill, which was passed by the house of representatives of congress yesterday:

It provides that so much of the act approved July 14, 1890, as directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase from time to time silver bullion to the aggregate amount of 4,500,000 ounces or so much thereof as may be offered in such month at the market price thereof not exceeding dollar for 371 grains of pure silver, and to issue in payment for such purchase treasury notes of the United States, be, and the same is hereby, repealed. But this repeal shall not impair nor in any manner affect the legal tender quality of the standard silver dollars heretofore coined and the faith and credit of the United States are hereby pledged to maintain the parity of the gold and silver coins of the United States at the present legal ratio or such other ratio as may be established by law.

Better Times Certain Now.

The silver purchase law is a good deal worse than half dead. The insignificant measure passed at the latest session of congress, yesterday when the Wilson bill for the repeal of the purchase clause of the Sherman act was passed. This Wilson bill will now go to the senate, and it is to be hoped that body will promptly act on it and ratify the action of the house.

The decisive majority by which the house put their condemnation on the purchase law should have its effect upon the greed and reckless speculation and impress upon them the fact that the people of this country look to congress for a speedy repeal of this law which has already wrought so much evil and ruin in financial and business circles. I represents a great majority of all classes of people, the silver law, enacted on the 14th of July, 1890 exclusively for the purpose of which we are now stated. It is the duty that of the senate to repeal it and give the people relief once from its baneful effects.

Hot Weather.

A propos of the stiff, city even this hot fair weather experience in locating ladies' pads, to an Lincoln's parlor tells a story of a lady who arranged in a new frock, took a between the other day, and, on alighting, found nearly for the entire contents of her pocket where she had confidingly placed her purse. The quest was so minutely prolonged that at last her chaperoner, who was not a man of refinement, remarked from his perch: "Now, then, marm, when you've quite done ascertainin' of your back, will you pay me my fare?"

August 31st.

Fly—Are you got a ticket out, Boy Wonder?

Newsboy—Yes, he want a boy to run errands, assist in the packing department, help unpack crockery, run to the various departments, clean windows, tend door, and—

Boy—Never mind the rest, mister. I'm lookin' for a place, and I ain't got time to wait.

A Slow Appetite.

Father (doling the carving)—Are you hungry to-day?

Little Dick—No, sir, only a small piece, please. I guess I won't be hungry for half an hour.

Father—We'll be about through then.

Little Dick—All except the pudding.

Perfectly Right.

Miss Candour—I hear your engagement with Mr. Flighty is broken?

Miss Muggs—Yes. I have cast him off.

Miss Candour—Perfectly right. A man who spends all his time with other girls, and doesn't call to see his affianced wife once in six months, ought to be cast off.

A Genial Countenance.

Upton—So you haven't been to see Joe Miller, the comedian? What a funny fellow he is!

Downton—Ha, ha, ha! His very face sets me laughing. What a long, drawn, half-collar he would make! Everybody he called on would think he had dropped in to lend them money.

Truthful Congressmen.

Little Dick—Pain says every state has a political ring, don't I guess it's so, because the map of Ohio is H.

Uncle John—It looks that way.

Little Dick—Illinois is always represented by cows, but the state capital is always a dot with a ring around it.

A Serious Case.

Nurse—Please, mum, you must send for the doctor, quick, for little Johnny.

Mistress—Horrors! What is the matter?

Nurse—I don't know, mum, but he hasn't been up to any mischief for two hours.

Royalty Scared Off.

Little Dot—I wonder why any truly kings and queens don't come to the World's Fair.

Little Dick—I guess mebbe they is afraid by the time they see all the pictures of them they won't know themselves when they look in the glass.

A Great Writer.

Teacher—Name some great writer of former times.

Boy—Spencer.

Teacher—You have been a closer student than I thought. Write. Now tell the class what you know of Spencer's writings.

"He wrote copy-books."

Plenty of Relatives.

Madame Finishem at young ladies' academy—Miss Pretty, that was the sixteenth young man who has called here to see your brother, and I know you have an deceiving us.

Miss Pretty—Oh, Madame, I have promised to be a sister to them all.

Felling Under Difficulties.

Real Estate Agent—Our map of Marshland is very attractive but I think it would be wise to dump a few loads of stone into those stalled out boulevards, so people in search of suburban lots can walk on them.

Capitalist—Let 'em fix things themselves after they buy the lots. "Just the place is all quickeand." "You needn't tell 'em that." "of course." "Then what's the matter?" "Why, you see, they read our advertisements, go out to look at the place and—and—never get back."

Pimple Philosophies.

Algernon—I say, Cholly, did you evah notice the—aw—wise provision of nature in a cigawette?

Cholly—I never notice anything. Obey. It's bad form.

Algernon—Hang fowm. I like philosophy. Now, I have often observed that the lawst inch of a cigar wett is not so good as the first. Howst? Now, just think what a fix we would be in if it was the othah way, and we had to smoke the lawst inch first.

Neighbors Managing.

Mr. Suburb—Well, we won't be troubled any more with those youngsters of Mr. Neighbor's racing over our garden. Mr. Neighbor is going to put up a high board fence between the properties.

Mrs. S.—That's lovely. But how did you persuade him to do it?

Mr. S.—I got a friend of mine to suggest to him that a high board fence would keep us from stealing his vegetables.

A Bengal tigress and a green monkey, from the island of Saint Kitts, are recent additions to the Central Park menagerie. New York City.

Typewriter Awards at the World's Fair.

Dissatisfaction has arisen over the decision of examiners to award medals and diplomas to typewriter manufacturers on special features of improvement in the different machines, instead of deciding on the general superiority of any one make.

This scheme will give every typewriter exhibitor a medal or diploma. The Smith Premier Typewriter Company have already withdrawn their machine from competition. They do not believe in being fed with any such "pap," or be classed as a partaker of any of the out of materials or book of diplomas which are to be distributed. It was their understanding that the best machine would get the prize, and the best machine only, anything else don't suit them.
